NEWS NOTES AND COMMENT

Presented in Interesting Style By Our Old Correspondent, Peter M. Herold.

Not wishing to tire Dispatch readers with too frequent visits from this locality, allow me to suggest that after having read all the newspaper exchanges which reach both the printing offices, I find none that excels The Mahoning Dispatch. Furthermore, your Washingtonville letter is as good as any of them.

George Williams of Washingtonville is working in the old pottery here.

Orion Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Washingtonville was named by Byron Hillman for the constellation of that name mentioned in the book of Job, 9th chapter, 9th verse. This constellation, that formerly appeared directly overhead, has disappeared from view into stellar space and can no longer be seen with the naked eye. The Odd Fellows here have the strongest lodge in the county.

Rev. W. R. Cain of Wichita, Kansas, is conducting a series of evangelistic meetings here in the Holiness Tabernacle.

He is a strong preacher, a good singer and plays a number of musical instruments, including piano, cornet and guitar. The other churches look upon the Holiness people as being sensational.

Carroll county, outside of the county seat, is largely agricultural with much wheat and corn. Grapes are well organized in every township and the philosophy of farming is well understood, but it is a difficult problem to get good crops from poor and depleted soil. A few prosperous farmers from Green and Beaver townships are needed here to give us a few practical pointers. Farmers and fruit growers at Locust Grove and Germantown don't know how well fixed they are. Let David Calvin and R. B. Maxwell sing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Washington's birthday was quietly observed here by closing the banks, schools and postoffice. The front door of the postoffice is kept open at all times for the benefit of those who rent lock boxes and drawers. Those who have call boxes can see if they have any mail, and call for it at a certain hour.

The Carrollton high school basketball team defeated the team of Mt. Union college last Friday night. The gymnasium in our school basement has been condemned and the good sense of the "trouble man" from Columbus recommends a 10-acre cornfield as a substitute.

To a man up a tree. The Gov. Cox paid highway through Washingtonville will be a boomer to that village. When Gov. Cox defeats Gov. Willis this fall, and the former makes a triumphant tour through Bingville in an auto, and Elden Holt, Mrs. Taylor and others throw bouquets at his Honor, that the Seneca River will be a quiet sweeping peanut shells into the gutter. Tommy Wilkinson will see to it, and Mayor Ed. Girard will have the big key ready. John Gilbert will get a coaster ready for his little son, but please do not interfere with the parade.

Sile Hart of Minerva has steam shovels at work grading the road about three miles east of here. Brick road has been laid from here to that point and the grading is being hurried along so as to reach the health resort of Harlem Springs when the bluebirds nest again. All the approaches to Carrollton are well paved, excepting those reached by railroad. This is the kind of "preparedness" we all like to see—the kind that farmers can go over with their autos and loads of corn, potatoes and wool.

A linotype machine is being installed in the Carroll Chronicle office. The editor served two terms as postmaster under Pres. Cleveland's administration and is the present postmaster. He owns the three story brick building in which his paper is being published and issues a creditable sheet with "patent inside."

The Oregon Indian medicine troupe showed here for a week, gave away silverware, clock, sacks of flour, etc. When I entered the opera house door the first night the manager asked me "Are you Mr. Herold?" Yes, sire. "I was told at Washingtonville to inquire for 'Old Pete' and he had to answer me from the platform that we would. So, go in and take a seat free." They gave a few clever stunts and sold much dope, then went to Waynesburg for a week's engagement.

It snowed six inches on Sunday and by the time this gets in cold type the "beauties" may have melted into mud. Carrollton and for miles around, is underlaid with 4 1/2 feet of No. 5 coal, and yet none of it has been developed. The coal yards here get the Amsterdam, Bergholtz and Pittsburgh coal for this market. It may be different when the Delroy coal fields are opened, as there is only seven miles south of here.

Dr. Rue's French minstrels showed in our opera house Monday night. At noon they gave a grand street parade with brilliant red uniforms and a full brass band only second to the Greenford band.

There have been many grip victims here during the past month. I spared neither old nor young and three undertakers were busy most of the time.

Many Carroll county people are spending this winter at St. Petersburg, Florida, and others would be there if they could only "get in what's standing out."

PETER M. HEROLD.

THE MIDDLE AGE

There comes a clear day when one realizes that clothes are to keep the weather off you, that food is to give you health, that home is shelter and inspiration; that, aside from being clean and inoffensive, one's personal appearance does not signify very much; that the main thing in life is to be going along toward the goal of your ideals. That isn't getting old, it's getting sense. From then on time is not master, but friend.

As a rule a girl only begins to dream of a career after her other dreams have failed to pan out.

ISLAND

March 1—Abram Wenger attended the farmers' institute in North Lima Monday and Tuesday.

Through mistake of the printer, in the obituary of John Horst in last week's news, the names of the widow, Mrs. Lovina Horst, and his father, Jonas Horst, were omitted.

This unusual and pleasant visit occurred Monday.

S. R. Martin and family were entertained Sunday at a goose roast dinner at Alvin Detroit's home.

Mrs. Sarah Kurtz sold a horse to John Detroit and bought another from A. W. Detroit.

Mrs. Lovina Horst will dispose of her personal property March 16 at public sale.

For Sale—a gray Belgian draft mare coming four years old at a bargain if sold quick. Henry Lehman, R. 1, Washingtonville. Phone 102-11 Columbiana.—adv.

J. J. Wiltmer and Harvey Horst are hauling saw logs to the Erie siding.

B. L. Weaver and wife spent Tuesday with Jonas Kurtz and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rohrer of Columbiana called on Mrs. Lovina Horst, Monday.

Mrs. Katie Martin of Goshen, Ind., well known and formerly of this place, is seriously ill with dropsy.

Mrs. Susan Lehman is suffering with a large abscess.

Wm. Brunk recently had a valuable horse die of Azoturia.

Dr. Schwartz of Salem made a professional call here Monday.

Amos Martin will move in with Mrs. Lovina Horst and do her farming.

Come again, Pete, as David Klingham, Bob Maxwell, the Lehmans and Calvins and many others enjoy reading your letter written from among the famous Carrollton hills.

MILLVILLE

March 1—The Perry grange entertainment was attended by about 80 people. The program was interspersed with music, and a colonial luncheon was served.

J. G. Hannay of East Palestine was a caller in the village Sunday.

Columbiana county Pomona grange will donate $25 toward the corn boys contest trip to Washington, D. C., next fall from this county, this decision having been reached at the meeting held Saturday at Perry grange hall on the Franklin road.

Membership in the "Order of the Coif," the highest scholastic honor that can befall any law student, has been conferred upon Louis W. Josephson of Columbus, E. J. Rosind of Sandusky and Mark L. McCabe of Salem, all seniors in the college of law of Ohio State University.

Considerable excitement prevailed in this community Sunday when the report came from the Perry township health officer, Dr. Schwartz, that a case of rabies was found at the Jacob Lipplatt farm formerly known as the James Trotter farm on the Egypt road. The dog died in some manner made his way into the barn and when Mr. Lipplatt went in found about 20 head of cattle had been bitten and lacerated at the nose as well as several small pigs were killed and pony bitten. Three of the cows were killed as the vet said, excepting those whom it is thought the remainder of the stock will have to be killed. The dog's head was sent to Columbus and a special meeting called at Lisbon of the county officers to determine what action can be taken in the matter.
